

AWARD WINNING
EDUCATION CAMPUS

Republic

EAST INDIA
LONDON, E14 2BA

Welcome to Republic.

A pioneering shared education campus, inspiring people to learn, collaborate, develop and thrive.

Introducing Republic

What is Republic?

Located in Tower Hamlets, in the heart of London's docklands, Republic is a pioneering education campus that connects today's talent with the future of work. It is home to multiple higher education and learning institutions, with over 15,000 students enrolled on-site.

The campus delivers a world class student experience with cafés, touchdown spaces and fitness studios located alongside spectacular water gardens. A dedicated community team are the conduit for cross campus events including welcome fairs, industry/career talks, street food markets, sports days and music festivals

Republic is more than just a place: It is a pathway to the workplace, with SMEs, research facilities and incubator space carefully curated within its ecosystem. It provides a campus experience like no other.

Building a community

Community is at the heart of Republic, underpinned by our Thrive framework. Working in partnership with universities, residents and local community groups, we run a range of projects that strengthen local ties and provide opportunities in upskilling and adult education.

Our commitment to increasing social capital is reflected in events that celebrate inclusivity, providing crisis support to students and empowering individuals through training, apprenticeships, and lifelong learning opportunities.

We don't just offer a place to work or learn, we offer a platform for personal and community growth, resilience, and sustainable development.

Net Zero by 2035

At Republic, we are committed to a sustainable future for all. A clear and ambitious pathway to net zero is in place with substantial investment already made in building/plant optimisation and renewable energy. We have a clear and ambitious pathway to net zero. We have invested in smart building plant optimisation and renewable energy sources and have a programme of work aiming to achieve EPC B by 2030 and net zero by 2035.

Embracing a mixed-use environment aligns seamlessly with our commitment to sustainability and responsible practices. At the University of the West of Scotland, we place a great deal of importance on Environmental, Social, and Governance factors in campus development. By integrating academic, business, and commercial spaces, Republic has created a fantastic site for our London Campus; a sustainable ecosystem that shares resources and minimises our environmental footprint. This mixed-use site not only enhances the experience for our students and staff, but highlights our commitment to ESG principles."

Marcus Ross
Vice-Principal, Planning & Recruitment
University of the West of Scotland

A place where education institutions thrive

"There's an undeniable spirit of excitement and energy that permeates our campus at Republic. From the moment you enter the premises, you can feel the palpable enthusiasm of students, faculty, and staff. Our campus is a hub of creativity, intellectual curiosity, and active engagement."

Charles O'Dean
Academic Director (Student Experience)
ARU London

Whether it's through award-winning campus design, spirited extracurricular activities, or meaningful community service, our students embrace the opportunities available to them with enthusiasm which ignites a contagious passion for learning. The vibrant atmosphere on campus truly sets us apart and makes Anglia Ruskin University London a place where dreams come alive."

"Choosing the Republic site for York St John University's London Campus has helped us grow both the range of courses we offer and the number of students we can cater for in the capital. We have orientated our portfolio towards courses that address key skills gaps and enable students to secure exciting and rewarding jobs. Surrounded by vibrant creative, technology and leisure businesses, our campus over two floors of Republic's Export Building offers modern, flexible learning and collaboration spaces"

Louise Donaghy,
Dean of London Campus
York St John University
